'Curiosity Cards' is a resource created for Firstsite Gallery in Colchester offering a colourful selection of questions and ideas to provoke discussion and interaction during a visit. From C for Colour to S for Space, each card encourages new ways of looking and enjoying contemporary art. The back of the cards features a repeat pattern of the building taken from the original architectural plans.

The cards are part of a selection of artworks, publications, projects and experiences created during a two year Associate Artist residency at the gallery. The Associate Artist programme includes: programme delivery, professional development, developing new resources and artist as researcher.
